'Visionary' headteacher dies aged 47

'VISIONARY':
Lesley Farrow

A HEADTEACHER who presided over the transformation of a primary school has died suddenly.

Lesley Farrow, 47, was head of Clements Community Primary School in Haverhill's Greenfields Way for five years, from 2009 to 2014.

The mother-of-two died over the weekend. A letter to the school's pupils said the cause of the accident was a fall from a horse.

Mrs Farrow oversaw the transformation of the school, as it expanded to incorporate more pupils, and moved into new premises.

The Ofsted rating of the school rose from "satisfactory" to "good" while Mrs Farrow was head, and the school's most recent Ofsted report praised her "determined and visionary leadership during a time of significant expansion and change".

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

Clare Reeve, whose daughter Poppy attends Clements, said of Mrs Farrow: "She was very young as far as headteachers go, having young children herself. We are all very shocked."

She continued: "With the new school building and new head, Clements is now a different school, thanks to Lesley Farrow."

"She will be sorely missed."

Karen Smith, whose son Charlie attends the school, is a member of parents' group Friends of the Clements. On behalf of the group, she said: "Our hearts go out to her family for their loss. She was a pleasure to be around. She was always smiling. She loved the school and the children."

"She was well respected and professional, and not only was she a brilliant headteacher, she was a lovely lady."

Current headteacher of the school Caroline Zwierzchowska-Dod said: "We are very sad that our former headteacher died suddenly over the weekend."

"We are supporting our children and staff and ask that

Awards celebrate academy students

STUDENTS were celebrated at the Castle Partnership Academy Trust's first annual PROUD awards last Wednesday.

The awards, which were presented at Haverhill golf club, celebrated young people from Castle Manor Academy as well and Place Farm and Burton End Primary Academies.

The winners and head boys and girl from each school heard a speech from director of the Sport and Recreation Alliance, Carolyn West.

Madeleine Vigar, executive principal of the trust, said: "The event was a sign of the high standards across our trust. The pupils, students and staff involved reflect the high aspirations we have for all members of our community."

Arsonist gets 4 years in jail

A MAN who set fire to his Haverhill home after threatening to kill his partner and her daughter has been jailed for four years.

Pawel Rozanski, 38, had to be subdued by police officers using pepper spray and was dragged to safety from a sofa at the house in The Keep as the room filled with dense smoke.

On Friday Ipswich Crown Court heard how on March 9, Ewa Sternik Barann returned home with her 13-year-old daughter and one of her friends.

Rozanski came downstairs and began arguing with Ms Barann's daughter before pushing her over, said Nicola May prosecuting.

Ms Barann, who had been in a relationship with Rozanski for six years, was then grabbed by the head by him and shaken, resulting in her striking her head on the kitchen door.

Miss May said that Ms Barann deflected a blow from Rozanski's knee as he made violent threats about killing her and her daughter.

Police were alerted and while they were on the way to the house Ms Barann told Rozanski what was happening but it appeared to enrage him further, said Miss May.

Rozanski went into another kitchen and returned with two 12 inch knives while shouting: "I will kill the police who come here and after that your daughter."

Shortly afterwards Rozanski went into another room and started playing loud music which gave Ms Barann the opportunity to flee, said Miss May. Outside she met police officers and told them what happened.

As police officers attempted to speak with Rozanski he appeared at the front door and then the back door, brandishing the knives and shouting abuse and threats.

Rozanski was seen through an upstairs window starting a fire which rapidly took hold, resulting in black smoke billowing from the property.

Miss May said with Rozanski refusing to come out, police had no option but to enter the house where they found him laying on a sofa, smoking a cigarette and laughing and he had to be subdued using spray.

When interviewed by police, Rozanski told officers: "I am very, very angry like a bomb" before admitting what he had done and confirming that he had assaulted Ms Barann once before.

Miss May said: "He stated that his intention was to sit on the sofa and wait for the fire to take hold of him."

Rozanski had pleaded guilty to arson being reckless as to whether life was endangered, assault and using threatening behaviour.

Appearing for Rozanski, Andrew Shaw said his client had anger management issues which were made worse when he had been drinking alcohol.

A psychiatric report indicated that if Rozanski could moderate his drinking, he was likely to have fewer anger problems.

Mr Shaw said that since his arrest, Rozanski had made a serious attempt to take his own life and was under 24-hour observation.

Jailing him, Judge Rupert Overbury told Rozanski: "This was a determined, premeditated action fuelled by alcohol."

"You risked other people's lives and you damaged property."

HISTORIC: Haverhill's Flint Cottage could be razed to make way for new homes

RESIDENTS and councillors "strongly object" to a planning application which would see a 19th-century cottage knocked down and replaced with new homes.

Flint Cottage in Haverhill's Bumpstead Road is one of the oldest buildings in the town, having stood on the site since at least 1835.

A planning application to replace it with seven new homes was submitted to St Edmundsbury Borough Council in June.

Residents on Bumpstead Road, and the neighbouring Ashley Close and Beaumont Vale have started a social media campaign and attended a Haverhill town council planning meeting on Tuesday night to object.

Resident Bill Taylor spoke at the meeting, raising 10 objections. As well as the historic nature of the building, he cited dangers to wildlife, flooding, road safety, and disturbances to neighbours.

Mr Taylor said: "We strongly object to this application."

HANNAH /MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

"Flint Cottage is one of the oldest and most attractive buildings in Haverhill."

He added that a report into the architectural history of the building submitted as part of the planning application was "totally biased, incomplete and inaccurate."

Town councillor Jason Crooks said that he had been to the records office in Bury St Edmunds to do his own research on the property. He said he had found it on an 1825 map of the town.

The applicant, Kenneth Dobinson, was also at the meeting. He said: "Demolishing Flint Cottage is not our choice. It's something that's been forced on us by Highways."

He said that the current plan was a response to Highways objections to a previous application. The past application proposed building nine new homes on the site and was rejected last October due to Highways concerns.

Haverhill Town Council's planning committee chose to object to the application on a number of grounds.

These included the historic value of the cottage and the fact that the Vision 2031 planning document states historic buildings should be preserved. They also had concerns about increased traffic and the speed of vehicles, and requested a report from Highways England.

The cottage used to be a listed building, but was delisted after extensive 1960s repairs and alterations.

The campaigners, as well as objecting to the application, are now fighting to have the cottage relisted.

They have started a petition on change.org, which had 456 supporters within a day of being set up.

They have also set up a Facebook page, which you can find by searching "Save Flint Cottage" on the site.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Van fire 'deliberate'

A VAN fire which took place in the early hours of Sunday morning was arson, according to Haverhill police. The incident took place between 12.30am and 1.05am off Haverhill's Dalham Place.

The blaze was started in the Nissan van's footwell. The passenger door was found unlocked and slightly ajar.

Call police on 101 if you have any information.

Police reassurance over dog theft worry

POLICE are seeking to reassure residents after social media posts caused anxiety about dog thefts.

Suffolk Police say they have not experienced a spate of dog thefts, and such incidents are very rare.

They say they have no reason to believe chalk markings on properties are in any way linked to dog thefts.

But residents are reminded if they see something being taken they should alert police by calling 999 in an emergency, or 101.

Pupils take over Twitter

TRIBUTES

Shock as headteacher dies, aged 47

From front page

Mrs Farrow's family's privacy is respected.

"She was an outstanding headteacher and led Clements School with conviction and respect for all."

The school will be arranging an appropriate tribute to Mrs Farrow in due course, and has created a book of remembrance for well-wishers to sign, which will be passed to her family.

Suffolk County Council confirmed that they would be providing support to any pupils affected by the sudden loss.

Members of the community took to social media to pay tribute to Mrs Farrow.

One said: "She was a wonderful teacher. Always had time to truly get to know her pupils and you could tell she cared about them as individuals." Another added: "She knew every child's name as well, bless her."

Mrs Farrow had moved from Clements to work at Woodhall Community Primary School in Sudbury, last September.

CRIME

Three arrests for drugs offences

THREE people were arrested in Haverhill on suspicion of supplying class A drugs on Tuesday.

Police stopped a vehicle in the Greenfields Way area of the town at around 1.30pm, as it had been seen being driven in a suspicious manner.

Two women aged 30 and 25 and a 23-year-old man were detained for a drugs search and a quantity of cash was seized.

The three, all from Haverhill, were then arrested.

Police seized the car as it had no insurance or MoT, and searched addresses.

At one they found 40-50 individual wraps of a substance, believed to be a class A drug, and drugs paraphernalia.

At another they found a small amount of a drug, believed to be heroin, and paraphernalia.

All three have been bailed to return to Bury St Edmunds Police Investigation Centre on September 7.

TRAVEL

Group enjoys twin town trip

TWINNING: Haverhill Twin Town Association on the trip to Pont St Esprit, France

TWENTY travellers visited Haverhill's twin town of Pont St Esprit last week – and were trapped there after a fire caused train cancellations.

The visit was organised by the Haverhill Twin Town Association (HTTA), which has been twinned with Pont St Esprit for more than 40 years.

The Haverhill visitors all stayed with people from Pont St Esprit and the surrounding areas. Secretary of HTTA Beryl Wilkens said: "When we arrived it was a festival in Pont St Esprit. In the evening we went into an enclosed square in the old town and had a meal, and were entertained by musicians and jugglers and acrobats and young girls doing the can-can."

They arrived on Saturday, July 4, and on Sunday they visited a museum which included a faithful reproduction of an ancient cave, too fragile to be exposed to visitors.

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

Other highlights of their trip included seeing the beautiful scenery of the Ardeche Gorge, and a Roman aqueduct called the Pont du Gard. Temperatures on the trip reached a scorching 43C at their highest.

They also visited a 13th century monastery called Chartreuse de Valbonne, where they took part in a wine tasting of wines produced at the monastery. A presentation and speeches were held on Wednesday night.

Mayor of Haverhill Cllr Betty McLatchy, who went on the trip, said: "The town twinning went very very well."

But there was trouble in store when the group attempted to take the TGV train home. After two hours of waiting, they discovered that their train was cancelled due to a fire on the tracks.

In the end they were put up in Marseilles for a night, and took the train the following day. They arrived back in Haverhill in the early hours of Saturday morning, rather than on Thursday night, as planned.

Mrs Wilkens said: "You can certainly see it as an adventure."

"It was a bit stressful. They have this laidback attitude of laissez-faire in France. Nobody knew what on earth was going on."

COURT

Fly-tipper ordered to pay £950

A FLY-TIPPER has been ordered to pay nearly £1,000 by a court.

David Dixon-Payne, 28, of May's Avenue, Balsham, pleaded guilty to fly-tipping under section 33 of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 at Cambridge Magistrates' Court.

Council officers found dumped domestic waste, including cardboard, a bed base and timber, on a track off Brinkley Road in Weston Colville.

Enforcement officers found evidence at the scene which linked the dumped waste to Dixon-Payne.

After they formally interviewed him, Dixon-Payne admitted collecting the waste from a Great Wilbraham address.

He received a fee of £60 for collecting the items.

Dixon-Payne was fined £400 by the court and was ordered to pay the council costs of £510 and a victim surcharge of £40.

Call 999 to contact the police if you see someone in the act of fly-tipping.

You can also report waste that you suspect may have been fly-tipped in South Cambridgeshire by visiting scambs.gov.uk and clicking "Report It".

Dementia care

THERE are nearly 12,000 people living with dementia in Suffolk but we know that many of them aren't receiving the help they need. In fact, a UK wide study found three quarters of GPs feel their patients with dementia aren't getting enough support from adult social services. The result is that unpaid family carers across Suffolk are filling in the gaps. In our report – Dementia 2015: Paving the Way – we are calling for two things to happen. Firstly, we need your readers to speak to their GP if they are worried about their memory. It might be nothing, but if it is dementia then getting a diagnosis opens the door to support. Secondly, we need to see more funding going to services for people with a diagnosis. The support in Suffolk is delivered by hardworking professionals but we need to go further.

The number of people with dementia is continuing to rise. It is time for the government to seize the momentum for change, and realise its ambition to make the UK a leader on dementia care.

Haverhill

AS a young child, George Key, who lives on the Clements estate in Haverhill, was fascinated by planes, in particular, Spitfires. As the war finished he followed the history of the aircraft and whenever possible, their crews. Imagine his delight when his daughter, Jeanette, decided to have a Spitfire theme for a party to celebrate his 80th birthday. Very ably supported by her sister Sandra, a lunch for 54 family and friends was arranged at The Conference Centre at Duxford War Museum, followed by his very own Spitfire flypast. Pilot Clive, from Biggin Hill, even allowed George to sit in the cockpit of the plane. Jeanette said that if it were not for the quick response from First Responders and the paramedics from the East Anglian Ambulance service, when her father had a cardiac arrest on January 1st, none of it could have happened. She sends her sincere thanks to all the team members who helped out, including the wonderful staff in coronary care at Addenbrooke's Hospital.

Linton

LINTON Netball Club is celebrating its 10th anniversary this year and has recently held a presentation evening at The Flying Shuttle, Haverhill, to celebrate and give thanks to founder Bridget Savill. The club was set up in 2005 following a course run by Helen Stepney at Comberton Village College. The course was attended by Bridget Savill who enjoyed it so much she decided to set up her own club. Ten years on and the club is still going strong. It has a great bunch of ladies who train each week with a qualified coach. The ladies' team enters the Katy Colson Cup as well as the Cambridge District Netball League in the summer and the Adult Friendly League in the winter. This year it has set up a youth section for school Years 9-11. The club hopes to enter a youth team into the league next season. Organisers said they have been overwhelmed by the generosity of a local business who has donated balls, bibs and pump for our youth section. "We train every Monday evening at Linton Village College, 7.30-8.30pm. We are holding an Adult Registration Evening on Monday 7th September 7.30-8.30pm and a Youth Registration Evening on Monday 14th September 6.30-7.30pm," a spokeswoman said. VISIT: The Brownies with watch commander Paul Ricketts and a colleague

Hoses and sirens make Brownies trip to fire station a blazing success

HOSES, sirens and protective clothing were all in store for a group of Brownies who visited a fire station last week.

The 6th Haverhill Brownies took a trip to Haverhill Fire Station on Wednesday, July 8.

They had a talk from watch commander Paul

Ricketts, and a tour.

A test call was arranged so that the Brownies could see how the station responds when a call comes in. They also had a chance to try their hand at using the hoses, and one young leader tried on heavy firefighters' clothing.

Assistant leader of the Brownies, Claire Waller, said: "This trip made us all realise how lucky we are in Haverhill to have a good fire station."

To get involved with the Brownies, please contact unit leader Sara Tobin on (01440) 706 430.

PLANNING

Time to shape town's future

TOMORROW is your last chance to have your say on a document that could shape Haverhill town centre for years to come.

A consultation on the town centre draft masterplan document will close at 5.30pm tomorrow.

The document, based on feedback given in an initial survey, sets out a vision for the development of the town centre.

It proposes having four distinct quadrants, each with their own character. Its most radical proposal for the town's "commercial and leisure heart" involves replacing the Jubilee Walk car park with a new town square.

It also suggests redeveloping the old Wisdom factory in Duddery Hill, the Chantry Mills site in the town centre, and the telephone exchange in Camps Road.

To take part in the consultation, visit onehaverhill.co.uk and fill out the questionnaire.

You can also pick up a hard

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

copy of the questionnaire from locations in town including the arts centre, the library and Haverhill House. These must be returned to one of these locations by 5.30pm tomorrow.

The body driving the consultation is ONE Haverhill, a partnership of local organisations.

Chairman of ONE Haverhill Sarah Howard said: "I urge anyone who has the questionnaire sitting on their kitchen table not yet filled in, or anyone who has said they would fill in the survey online, to do so now."

"The consultation ends on Friday and after that no further comments can be taken on board."

"This is the future of our town, our town centre and a chance for Haverhill to move forward. The last town centre masterplan delivered the new Tesco, the cinema and the big brand restaurants we have now in town.

"If you would like to see more of that please do now have your say."

The feedback given in the questionnaire will help planning experts David Lock Associates create a final version of the document.

This version will go before St Edmundsbury Borough Council in September. It is hoped it will then be adopted as a formal planning document by the council.

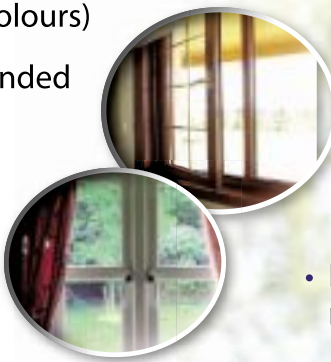

This would mean it would have to be taken into consideration by any developers wanting to build in Haverhill.

David Lock Associates and ONE Haverhill have spent July holding public events to help raise awareness of the masterplan.

You can read the draft masterplan document and view images of what the town could look like at onehaverhill.co.uk.

'RUN DOWN':

The Howe Road play area, which resident Ben Brangwin would like to see better looked after

'Clean up this children's play area'

A RESIDENT has spoken out about the poor state of a Haverhill play area.

Ben Brangwin, 36, who lives in the town's Forest Glade, said he was "not very happy" about the state of the Howe Road play area.

Mr Brangwin, who has a 2-year-old daughter and a 4-year-old son went on: "I think that play area has been there for a long long time, more than 20 years, and it's just very run down."

He emailed Suffolk County Council about the play area after he visited it with his daughter last Friday, and plans to get in touch with St Edmundsbury Borough Council. He said: "I noticed there were some bolts missing that went up the steps, and quite a lot of corrosion. I would like the council to spend some money there and do it up, or maybe replace a lot of the play equipment."

Mr Brangwin went on: "There was a roundabout a couple of years ago and that got taken away and nothing replaced it."

A council spokesman said: "As with all our play facilities, the Howe Road play area is subject to weekly inspections by a council officer. If we had any safety concerns we can close the park or remove a particular item of play equipment. It is also assessed once a year by an independent inspector who can recommend that the park either be closed or action taken to repair or remove a piece of equipment if required.

"While we acknowledge the play area does look tired, we are happy with its safety. We have a rolling programme to replace play equipment and have recently invested in the Aeroplane Park and the Recreation Ground in Haverhill. The Howe Road play area isn't on our list to replace during this financial year. That said, we will obviously carry on with our weekly inspections and if we have any concerns we will take immediate action."

COUNCIL

Warning over insulation ads

COUNCILLORS are urging the residents of Haverhill to be wary of home insulation advertising.

At a town council planning committee on Tuesday night, councillors objected to adding external cladding as insulation to a Victorian terraced house in Withersfield Road.

They said that the cladding, which would have covered up original red brick with an off-white layer, was "inappropriate".

Cllr John Burns said: "A lot of this is down to letters coming through the door saying 'Clad your house'. I'm starting to hear horror stories of people who replied, sent their money in, and the job's not done."

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

Cllr Clive Turner added: "I think this is beginning to be a new wave of 1970s double glazing salesmen."

They urged residents to think carefully before making decisions about home insulation, and to be aware that external cladding might not be considered appropriate if it was out of keeping with surrounding buildings.

They said residents might find that the job could not be completed due to planning objections.

Cllr Turner said: "On a personal level I think the salesmen are being a bit naughty. But covered up brickwork is inappropriate."

However Cllr Quillon Fox added: "I think it's important to say that we are not against insulating houses. We are not going for this proposal, but we are trying to say 'Do better'."

They did not object to an application to install external insulation at a modern property in Woodcock Close.

WALK: Pop star JJ Hamblett, pictured with the Alzheimer's Research UK's Hilary Evans, opens the charity walk at Linton Village College

CHARITY

Star lends his support

A BOYBAND star was one of hundreds who turned out for a fund-raising walk over the weekend.

Union J musician JJ Hamblett opened Alzheimer's Research UK's annual Defeat Dementia Walk in Linton on Sunday.

The charity, based further up the A1307 in Great Abington, hopes the walk will raise £50,000 to help fund dementia research.

The walkers set off from Linton Village College in Cambridge Road, and took either a 10-mile walk through surrounding villages, or a more pushchair-friendly three-mile stroll.

All the walkers finished at the college and were rewarded with tea and cake.

JJ said: "It was an honour to launch Defeat Dementia Walk. My mum Karin works as a carer and she looks after people living with Alzheimer's disease and other forms of dementia.

"Because of her work I'm aware of just how devastating dementia is and I'm proud to support Alzheimer's Research UK.

"Since I became involved with the charity I've heard from so many fans who have been touched

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

by dementia in some way.

"It's a cruel condition that affects families and friends, not just the individual living with it."

Organiser Jessica Hiscocks said: "We are very grateful to everyone who has taken part in and volunteered at Alzheimer's Research UK's Defeat Dementia Walk. It's been a great day and it's fantastic to see so many people walking with the same goal: to defeat dementia.

"The walk is Alzheimer's Research UK's flagship fundraising event and brings people together with one aim: to defeat dementia.

"We rely entirely on public donations to fund our world class research and it's thanks to people who take part in events like Defeat Dementia Walk that we are able to continue our crucial work."

FUNDRAISING

My 1,100km charity cycle

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

A NOVICE cyclist from Haverhill is pedalling more than 1,000 km in just eight days.

Stuart Bayne, 52, of the town's Horsham Close, set off on Monday and is due to arrive at his final destination, Meung Sur Loire in southern France, next Tuesday, July 22.

He is raising cash for the Down's Syndrome Association, and has already secured an astonishing £14,000, despite being new to fundraising.

The father-of-three has a family member with Down's Syndrome, which is why he chose to support the charity.

He said: "I've seen first hand how they support and encourage both families and people living with Down's Syndrome through direct contact, information, and education of the condition so it would be great if I could raise funds to help it."

Stuart's employer, Hemel Hempstead-based NGK Spark Plugs, has helped him fundraise. One of NGK's clients donated a whopping £800.

He also raised cash at the Goodwood Festival of Speed in June, collecting £2,500 over the three days it was running.

Stuart has been training for the cycle ride for about nine months. He said: "This is a fairly new thing for me."

"I got a new bike last July for my birthday and I thought, 'this will give me a bit of purpose, a bit of a challenge.'"

His route will take him from his workplace in Hemel Hempstead via Dusseldorf to the south of France.

The journey will take him through five different European countries.

He will be cycling up to 100 miles each day, on a 1,100km route (nearly 700 miles).

Stuart has fitted in training and fundraising on top of working as a sales manager and spending time with his family.

He said: "It's very, very exciting. I just want to get on with it now!"

Despite his success in raising money, Stuart does not plan to become a regular fundraiser.

He said: "This is a one off."

"I don't want to be asking for more from people. Do something once and do it properly."

He will still be accepting donations until August 13, a month after he set off on his journey.

If you'd like to donate, visit uk.virginmoneygiving.com/team/cycle321.

You can also get in touch with Stuart by calling 07770 382377, or emailing stuart.bayne@ngk.co.uk.

Celebrate Independent Retailers Month this July and shop locally in & around Haverhill.

Support local independents!

IT'S Independent Retailer month this July and the perfect excuse to get out there, go shopping and celebrate indie stores for the important role that they play in their communities.

With mega stores and

street so it's more important than ever to support the smaller, local retailers and appreciate how they contribute to their local economies.

Plus, it's not that hard to see the many benefits of shopping indie. These shops bring unique character and a sense of community to their towns and high streets and even just setting up an independent shop will naturally have a positive local economic impact as local people will be hired to do all the fitting and administrative work.

Aside from that, a huge benefit to consumers is the fabulous choice and diversity which can only be found in an independent shop. Small retailers choose products with their local customers in mind knowing exactly what their needs and tastes are in a way that mega stores can't possibly compete with.

Whether you're looking for a beautifully hand-crafted piece of furniture made by a local person, handmade arts and crafts for a thoughtful, unique gift for someone special or even if you just want a few links of sausages farmed just down the road then you'll never be disappointed if you browse the independent shops.

Get out and celebrate the indie shops this July!

PERFECT EXCUSE: Indies play a big role in supporting local communities

HAVING FUN: And keeping it real!

COMMUNITY

Tuck in to feast of food and fun at summer bash

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

THE sun is shining, the schools are breaking up, and Haverhill's annual Summer Bash is almost here.

This year's event will take place on the Haverhill Recreation Ground on Sunday, from 10am to 4pm.

Residents can expect entertainment including a car show, dog show, and baby show, as well as eight local music acts and refreshments.

The bash will also have a number of special guests: the car show will include an Only Fools and Horses yellow three-wheeler with a Del Boy impersonator, and a motorbike and sidecar with "Hagrid and Harry Potter", who will also be doing some magic.

On top of this, Haverhill puppeteer Laura Bacon will be bringing along her most famous creation, blue New Yorker and Britain's Got Talent star Patsy May, as well as her Haverhill old girl Mavis the fox.

Organiser David Doughty said: "This is the biggest community event in the Haverhill calendar. Seven local people have given up their free time to do this for the whole town. We want their support and we want people to come out in their thousands as they have done before."

SUMMER FUN:
Residents at last year's Summer Bash

This year's event will also have a sporting dimension: as well as the usual tug of war, it will feature the inaugural Haver5, a 5k fun run.

The race costs £7 for children up to the age of 16, and £12 for adults. You can enter in advance at entrycentral.com/haver5 or enter from 2pm to 5pm on Saturday, July 18 or 8am to 10am on Sunday at the Next Door Café beside Haverhill Methodist Church in Camps Road.

The Summer Bash will fundraise for local good causes the Scouts and Guides, the Community First Responders, the Salvation Army and disability charity Lamp H.

Mr Doughty thanked all those who had donated or sponsored the event.

COUNCIL

Band gets cash from borough mayor's fund

A BAND from Haverhill is one of a number of good causes to benefit from a £30,000 fund.

Former mayor of St Edmundsbury Cllr Robert Everitt raised the cash at civic events throughout his time as mayor.

Cllr Everitt presented £10,000 each to his two main charities: the Gatehouse, which cares for vulnerable people, and the West Suffolk Hospital Acute Kidney Injury.

The remaining £10,000 was divided between 10 different local good causes.

One of these was the Haverhill Silver Band, which received £500.

The others were St Edmundsbury Cathedral, The Guildhall Project, Ahead Club, the Bury St Edmunds Deaf Association, The Voice Squad, Stagecoach, Artheads, the Bury St Edmunds Concert Band, and Bury St Edmunds Sea Cadets.

Cllr Everitt said about the fund: "It was an amazing and fun year as mayor."

"I was delighted to have had so much support for my various civic fundraising events – and I was staggered to raise such a vast sum of money for a great variety of local groups and organisations."

Richard Pannell, secretary of the Haverhill Silver Band, said: "Haverhill Silver are delighted that Mayor Everitt has chosen to help the band by presenting us with £500."

EMERGENCY

Have your say on fire service

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

FIRE service bosses are aiming to save more than £1million over the next three years due to government cuts – and they are asking the people of Haverhill for their ideas.

Suffolk Fire and Rescue has launched a pre-consultation asking for residents' opinions on where the axe should fall.

It will be followed by a full consultation in the autumn, after which the service will be redesigned to save money and fall in line with central government cuts.

The pre-consultation will run until July 24. The aim is to generate as much feedback and as many ideas for a redesign as possible, to help inform the full consultation.

Suffolk County Council's cabinet member for environment and public protection, Cllr Matthew Hicks, said: "Suffolk Fire and Rescue Service has a strong reputation as being one of the most efficient in England with a track record for being innovative and for delivering very efficient and effective services."

"The service operates a shared 999 fire control with Cambridgeshire Fire and Rescue, collaborates with other blue-light services in Suffolk to share property and has changed fire station crewing and its management structure to become even more efficient."

"This pre-consultation is really important. We would like to hear from people, before considering any ideas, about how we might redesign the services that are currently delivered."

He added: "We want our fire and rescue service to continue to deliver its services and become even more efficient, given the ongoing reductions in central funding."

"I would urge people to let us have their views so that these can be taken into account when we start to develop our ideas, which we will be consulting publicly on later this year."

So far, the consultation's web page has been viewed more than 300 times and they have received feedback via Facebook.

As well as Facebook, you can get in touch with the fire and rescue service by emailing FireService-Redesign@suffolk.gov.uk or calling (01473) 260588. The phone line is open from 9am to 5pm on weekdays (4pm on Fridays).

Alternatively, write to Service Redesign Programme Manager, Suffolk Fire and Rescue Service HQ 8, Russell Rd, Ipswich, IP1 2BX.

To participate in the consultation, submit your feedback by July 24.

Cambridge Summer Music Festival

1 Great music – The Cambridge Summer Music Festival is brimming with great music. Featuring the classics of the repertoire from Beethoven's Missa Solemnis to Gershwin's Summertime, Brahms' 1st Symphony to light-hearted operettas, Mozart and Clementi Sonatas to Chopin Nocturnes, 16th-century choral to jazz and blues; new twists on old favourites, such as Elgar's Nimrod and Barber's Adagio adapted for eight cellos, and Liszt's Liebestraum No 3 adapted for the left-hand; at least one world premiere and six UK premieres.

2 World-renowned and beautiful venues – King's College Chapel is one of the world's most famous and spectacular music venues, but concert-goers can also relish discovering the hidden gems of Cambridge's other colleges, from the puritan simplicity of Sidney Sussex chapel to Robinson College's glorious John Piper stained-glass windows, from the stunning interiors of the newly restored St John's Old Divinity School, to the city's beautiful churches and prestigious schools, the fine acoustics of the West Road Concert Hall, and the Fitzwilliam Museum's treasures, not to mention the glorious outdoor spaces of the Botanic Garden and Wandlebury Country Park – all to beautiful music.

3 Exciting, world-class performers – The festival is bursting with exciting talent, including the virtuoso trumpeter Alison Balsom, one of the most distinctive and groundbreaking musicians on the international circuit today; the Wihan and Allegri

Quartets, playing together; Lucy Parham's acclaimed music-and-words portrait of the tender but volatile relationship of Chopin and George Sand in Nocturne, narrated by Patricia Hodge and Henry Goodman; the conducting of the innovative director of music at King's College, Stephen Cleobury; award-winning pianist Tanya Bannister; the exciting Zenobia Scholars, young singers from Spain specially trained in Renaissance Spanish music; the prodigiously gifted pianist Nicholas McCarthy with his rich and varied repertoire for left-hand only... and an extraordinary opportunity to see and hear one of today's most beloved and versatile opera stars, Sir Willard White, in recital – to name just a few out of many.

4 Great for kids – Plenty of opportunities for kids to be inspired and get creative with family concerts at Wandlebury Country Park and Cambridge Junction – crazy music and magic with the Classic Buskers; two performances of John Rutter's musical The Piper of Hamelin, which will include 25 local children; and a week-long workshop for kids to get singing, dancing and acting, leading up to two performances of the ever-popular The Wizard of Oz.

5 Tempting special offers – So much to go to, so tempting, it's on your doorstep, what a great opportunity – book early and get one of the limited season tickets with free admission to every concert in the festival proper and reserved top and middle price seats. If the piano's your thing, Piano Sounds saves on three unusual piano recitals, or Chamber Music 3 will get you three fine quartet-plus concerts: the Doric with Brett Dean, the Škampa with Melvyn Tan, and the Allegri and Wihan Quartets. There are also savings on a double bill of concerts from around the world: Anglo-Colombian combo Classico Latino taking us on a trip through Latin America, and the Dutch Tim Kliphuis Trio celebrating the music of French jazz legend Stephane Grappelli. Go on, treat yourself!

• For full information on all the concerts in this year's festival programme, visit the website at cambridgesummermusic.com.

ROUND UP

● THE Cambridge Shakespeare Festival is up and running. Pack picnic blankets, fancy crisps and a jumper for when the evening cools down and get ready for some semi-professional theatrics from local actors.

As always, the festival runs in two blocks, spanning the remainder of the summer and a collection of Shakespeare's best loved plays.

Now – August 1 we have: Titus Andronicus, The Merry Wives of Windsor, Romeo and Juliet and Love's Labour's Lost.

From August 1-31 see: Much Ado About Nothing, A Midsummer Night's Dream, Timon of Athens and Macbeth.

Laugh, cry and shiver in fear, and during the interval, go a-looking round the usually-closed-to-the-public university gardens. This year's venues include Robinson, Trinity, Downing, King's and St John's Colleges. Have fun exploring.

● IT'S Latitude's 10th birthday this week! The festival's organisers are planning to celebrate in spectacular style, with headline slots from Cambridge boys Alt-J, Portishead and Noel Gallagher's High Flying Birds. Comedy-wise, laugh yourself senseless with Alan Davies, Jon Richardson and Jason Manford, while the poetry, theatre, cabaret and literary arenas are perfect for wiling away the afternoons.

Latitude takes place at Henham Park, Suffolk, Friday, July 16 – Sunday, July 18. Tickets and details at latitudefestival.com.

COMEDY

ed byrne

Irish stand-up and best mate of Dara O'Briain. Ed is known for his quick observations, floppy hair and those Carphone Warehouse adverts. Sunday, July 19 at 9pm.

Time to laugh your Ed off

When did you first realise you could make people laugh?

Probably at college. I was involved in running the Student Union so had to make speeches occasionally and I'd jazz them up with the odd gag here and there.

Where do you find inspiration?

Anywhere and everywhere. Most of the best stuff comes from obsessing over the things I wished I'd said in arguments or confrontations with other people.

You've had huge success on the international circuit... do you find that sense of humour differs greatly between countries?

Not massively. I find America is the place where you have to tailor your references to the audience more than any other place. If you say "footpath" instead of "sidewalk", for instance, they'll look at you, baffled.

What is it about the Irish sense of humour that produces such top comedians?

I get asked that question a lot. I should really think of an interesting answer for it. The best I can come up with is that we like talking, and talking is a very important component of stand up.

Who makes you laugh?

My friends. Nobody will ever make you laugh like the people you know best and who know you best. I'm lucky in that most of my closest friends also happen to be professional comedians so that's a bonus.

What has been the highlight of your career so far?

Getting to do a West Wing style

"walk and talk" with Martin Sheen on the Graham Norton Show. I'm a massive fan of the West Wing so that was a hoot.

Best and worst aspects of your job?

The best bit is the time spent on stage. The worst bit is the time spent getting to the stage.

Any tips for aspiring comedians?

It's nice if you can make the audience think. It's great if you can make the audience cheer. Neither means anything unless you can make the audience laugh.

● Join us for a National Theatre live broadcast of EVERYMAN today at 7pm. Everyman is successful, popular and riding high when Death comes calling. He is forced to abandon the life he has built and embark on a last, frantic search to recruit a friend, anyone, to speak in his defence. But Death is close behind, and time is running out. One of the great primal, spiritual myths, Everyman asks whether it is only in death that we can understand our lives.

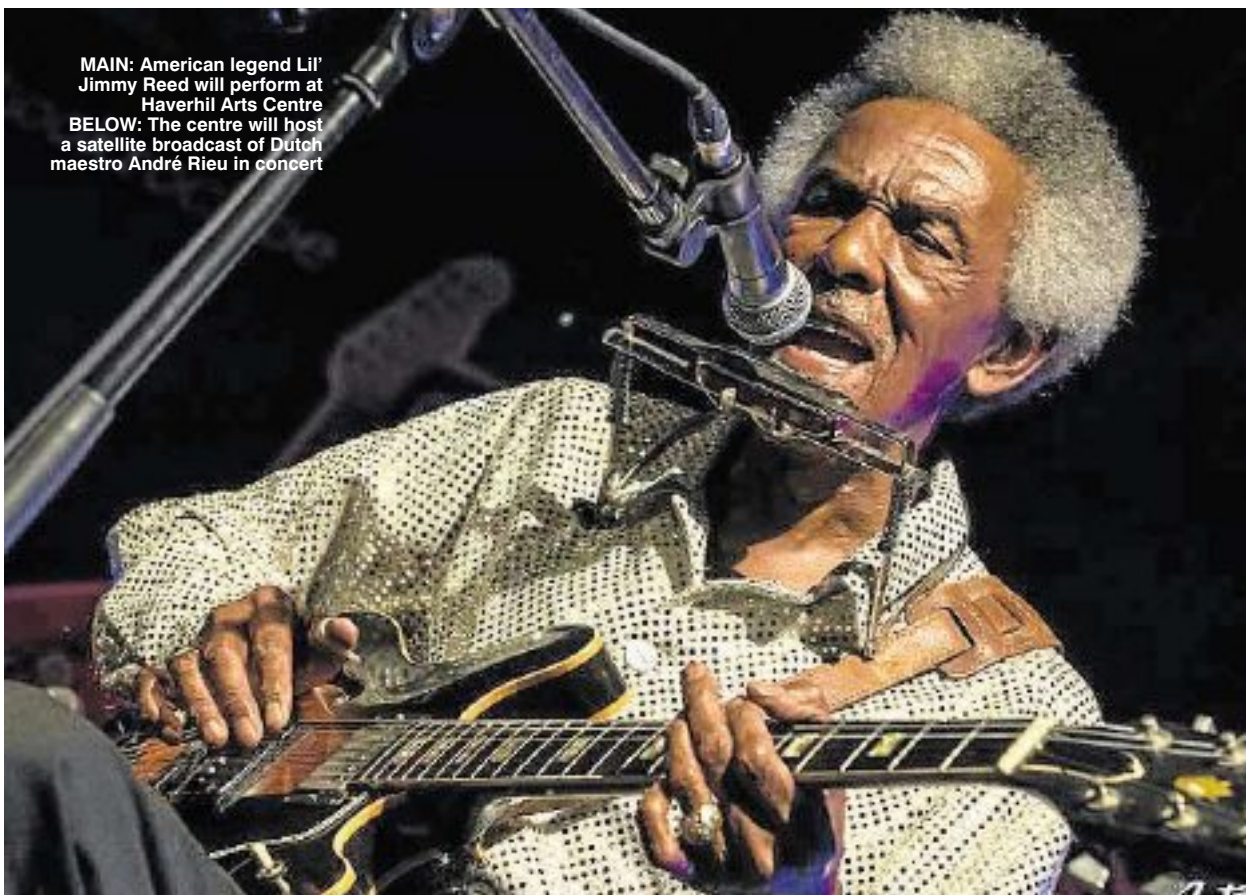

● We have two not-to-be missed satellite broadcasts this week. Prepare for emotions to soar during one of the most spectacular concerts of the year as the Dutch maestro André Rieu puts on an awe-inspiring spectacle with his 60-piece Johann Strauss Orchestra for his 2015 Maastricht Concert on Saturday July 18 at 7pm. You can expect many soloists and guest appearances in this live broadcast and see for yourself why André is one of the world's most popular live acts. From the Netherlands to Venice, we have a live broadcast of THE MERCHANT OF VENICE from the RSC on Wednesday July 22 at 7pm. In the melting pot of Venice, trade is God. With its ships plying the globe, the city opens its arms to all, as long as they come prepared to do business and there is profit to be made. With the gold flowing all is well, but when a contract between Bassanio and Shylock is broken, simmering racial tensions boil over.

● We have a treat in store for all blues fans on Friday July 24 when US legend LIL' JIMMY REED comes to Haverhill. From shot-gun shack to festival main stage, the prodigious talents of Lil' Jimmy have taken him a long way from the Mississippi river and he is now one of the last surviving performers of the classic Louisiana down-home blues era. After taking several countries in Europe by storm over the past 12 months, with many sell-out shows and standing ovations, Lil' Jimmy has recently been inducted into the prestigious Blues Hall of Fame. We're rockin' from 8pm.

● Come along if you want a bargain from the TABLE TOP SALE between 10am and 1pm on Saturday July 18.

● On the cinema front writer-director John Boorman's long awaited sequel to 1987's Hope and Glory, QUEEN AND COUNTRY (15), follows the now 18 year old Bill Rohan into the army during the 1950s. We have screenings on tomorrow and Thursday July 23 at 7.30pm. With great casting including Al Pacino, Annette Bening and Jennifer Garner, and tipped for an award, DANNY COLLINS (15) is showing on Tuesday July 21 at 7.30pm. Danny Collins is a vain, ageing and creatively bankrupt rock star who embarks on an often hilarious redemptive journey after belatedly discovering an unopened fan letter from John Lennon.

MAIN: American legend Lil' Jimmy Reed will perform at Haverhill Arts Centre
BELOW: The centre will host a satellite broadcast of Dutch maestro André Rieu in concert

Lil' Jimmy show is big news for blues fans

● Look out for Cambridge Touring Theatre's Robin Hood the Musical at East Town Park on Saturday July 25 at 5pm, fun for the children in Little Howard's Big Show for Kids on Friday July 31 at 2pm and Pongo's Party on Tuesday August 11 at 2pm, here at the Arts Centre.

New Fiat 500 on starting block

FIAT has released the first pictures of the updated 500, complete with 'airy glasshouse' and rear lights that 'almost look like illuminated tattoos'.

More than 1,800 'innovative' detail changes have been made, says Fiat, on a car that intends to keep its crown as the high-cost city car of choice – prices for entry-level versions will start at £10,890, or about the same as an absolutely top-spec Skoda Citigo.

Such an overhaul of minor details has left the styling largely alone, which will be music to the 500 fan club's ears, although the front does now have rounded LED daytime running lights for a more '2016' look.

It's also the same size as before, at 3.57m long, 1.63m wide and 1.49m tall, with the signature clamshell bonnet but slightly more angled headlights for a 'bolder and more confident gaze'.

It's the tail lights that are the most confusing, though, with 'empty' light clusters that have body-coloured centres, from which 'light appears to emanate almost like an illuminated tattoo'.

Inside the 'airy glasshouse' – that would be the passenger area, then – things are just as familiar despite claims of 'extensive revisions'. But all versions now feature the Uconnect entertainment system, previously only offered on high-end grades.

Three petrol engines that buyers already know and love will be offered; a 68bhp 1.2 as the cheapest option and two versions of the 0.9-litre TwinAir two-cylinder turbo, with 84 and 104bhp respectively. The TwinAir 84bhp has achieved an average of 74.3mpg in official tests.

Safety is boosted by larger brakes than before, while somehow the engineers have stuffed seven airbags into the tiny cabin – or should that be 'glasshouse'?

The 500 is due to go on sale in September, with prices of high-spec models expected to reach perilously close to £18,000.

EVEN BETTER: The new Fiat 500 takes small car cuteness to new heights (though not literally!)

STRONG SUIT: The Skoda Superb's residuals are, er, just superb

THE results are in from the European jury – the all-new Superb is officially forecast to have the strongest residual values in the mid-size sector.

Having examined the UK and six other key European markets, CAP, DAT, EurotaxGlass, and IBS Automotive are forecasting that the new, third-generation Superb will be the most resistant to depreciation over the course of three years and 60,000 miles.

The new Superb was compared against the Ford Mondeo, Hyundai i40, Vauxhall Insignia, Citroen C5, Toyota Avensis, Peugeot 508 and Mazda 5. The version of the model varied depending on the market, but the winner was always the same: the new Superb.

Middle lane hogs: The law is vigilant

THE first driver in the UK has been prosecuted for hogging the middle lane. It's taken two years since the legislation came into force for this to happen, but the van driver was fined almost £1,000 and given five penalty points on his licence.

The reason police in West Yorkshire decided this was the appropriate method for dealing with this driver is the fact he persistently refused to move from the middle lane of the M62, despite there being sufficient space in the inside lane for him to move over safely.

Safety is the key issue in the debate about middle lane hogs. Some argue the middle lane is the safest place to be on a motorway as it offers the most space between you and the barriers on either side of the road. These drivers claim it means they are not mixing with the slower heavy goods vehicle traffic that is predominantly in lane one and also means they are not preventing other drivers from passing in lane three.

However, the Highway Code Rule 264 clearly states that all drivers must keep to the left-hand lane when not overtaking. This means all drivers of all vehicles should be in lane one unless they are passing slower vehicles.

Depending on the speed of your vehicle and those in the inner lanes, the amount of space and time you have will determine whether or not it's safe to move to the inside lane.

The police recommend maintaining a 100-metre gap between your car and the one in front at 70mph. Handily, this equates to a two-second gap and that is the safe amount of time in dry conditions to allow for spotting a hazard further up the road and reacting in time to keep yourself and other motorists safe.

Just as handily, most sections of motorway have marker boards placed every 100 metres along the hard shoulder, so it is not difficult to gauge a 100-metre distance to the car in front.

Given this safe distance, which should be doubled in wet weather, it's easy to identify a space between vehicles in the inside lane that is a sufficient distance to pull into.

While some might think it pointless to change lanes for a short distance and period of time, it is good driving practice. It allows cars behind to pass without using the third lane, which in turn helps keep traffic flowing smoothly.

What you must not do while driving in lane one or two is overtake traffic in the outer lanes. Known as undertaking, it's illegal in the UK and dangerous, and could result in a conviction for driving without due care or even careless driving.

SUCCESS: Haverhill members with their national medals

Martial arts

Tang soo do pupils earn national glory

MEMBERS of Haverhill Tang Soo Do brought home the bacon from the British Championships in Watford.

Eight students from the club managed to clinch 13 national medals at the competition. Instructor Craig Phillips said: "I'm incredibly proud of the students that went to compete at this year's national championships."

"Everyone has been training very hard in class working on their fitness and flexibility, along with forms and free fighting techniques."

"Eight national gold medals were won as well as three silver medals and two bronze medals in forms and free fighting events."

Training sessions are held at Leiston Road on Tuesdays from 7pm to 9pm.

Netball

Founder honoured by Linton

BRIDGET Savill was honoured at Linton Netball Club's presentation evening as the club celebrated their 10th anniversary.

Savill founded the club a decade ago after attending a back to netball session and it has gone from strength to strength.

She was presented with an engraved vase and a bouquet of flowers in appreciation of all the work she has done for Linton at the event at The Flying Shuttle in Haverhill.

The club will be launching a youth section this year as well, for girls in school years nine to 11.

That is thanks to the help of a local business donating balls, bibs and a pump.

The senior team enters the Katy Colson Cup as well as the Cambridge & District League in the summer and the Adult Friendly League in the winter.

They train every Monday evening, usually term time only, at Linton Village College outside courts.

This summer they have decided to train through the summer holidays from 7.30pm to 8.30pm.

The club is open to ladies of any age, experience and fitness level.

For more information, contact Savill on 07972 598668 or Angela Bridgeman on 07729 879300, or visit <http://lintonladiesnetball.weebly.com>.

Walker dominates en route to cup win

DAN Walker finished 10 shots clear of the rest of the field to win Haverhill's latest major, the R Brown Cup.

Junior captain Walker (pictured right) produced two rounds of 67 and 65 in difficult weather conditions to finish on 152, which saw him well clear of his nearest rivals.

Ciaran Brennan took second on countback after totalling 142 from rounds of 73 and 69, beating Martin Bentley (66, 76).

Golf

Andy Fish was one further back in fourth after rounds of 69 and 74.

Haverhill are through to the semi-finals of the Stenson Cup after a 7-5 victory over Waldringfield.

The visitors made a strong start and were 3-1 up after the morning foursomes, going on to take victory with some solid performances in the afternoon singles.

They face the winner of the third round match between Felixstowe and Bury St Edmunds on August 22.

Ian Andrews won the men's midweek medal on countback, beating Liam Merritt, Spencer Tatum and John Stokes on countback after all four scored 67.

Andrews finished top of Division Three, beating Patrick Bowes who took second on countback from Colin Smith after both scored 68.

Merritt won Division One, finishing ahead of Martin Mansfield (69) and Michael Bennett (71).

Tatum topped the Division Two standings ahead of Stokes and third-placed Howard Craven (68).

Sigler hits Rovers double

CHARLIE Sigler got two as Haverhill Rovers kicked off their pre-season friendlies with a 3-2 win at Coggeshall Town.

Rovers went a goal down, but Tye Alleyne got them back on level terms with a 28th-minute strike.

Coggeshall went back in front before half time, only for Sigler to level again on 64 minutes.

Football

Then with nine minutes to go, Sigler fired home from Owen Longley's cross to seal the win.

Rovers are at home to Cambridge City on Saturday, with the encounter at the New Croft doubling up at their Whole Club Day.
